

A Study into the Factors Affecting Inclusion

Rachel Standen

1 in 240 school-aged children have a diagnosis of epilepsy in the UK.

Measures

The inclusion measure was adapted from Survey of Teacher Attitudes and Opinions about Students with Special Needs and the Types of Support for experience difficulties in school ranging from slight underachievement to severe problems

Current guidelines from the Department of Education refer primarily to medical management of seizures.